

Prof . Irina N. Simaeva

Doctor of Psychology Science, professor of the Institute for the Humanities, Immanuel Kant Baltic Federal University.

Her research interests include education management, personality psychology, social psychology. She studies strategies for the development of education systems in the regions of the Russian Federation, strategies for protecting the health of children and youth in the RF education system, problems of personal adaptation to activity and social changes. Author of publications on this topic.

E-mail: ISimaeva@kantiana.ru

Publications of the author are presented in the personal profile of the Scientific electronic library http://elibrary.ru/author_items.asp